Exhibit 1.

Curriculum Vitae

Gerald F. Fitzgerald

Professor of Food Microbiology; Director, BioTransfer Unit, UCC NAME: POSITION:

QUALIFICATIONS:

BSc (Microbiology) University College Cork 1978 PhD (Microbiology) University College Cork 1982

DSc, National University of Ireland 2006

BRIEF OUTLINE OF ACADEMIC HISTORY:

Director, BioTransfer Unit, UCC 2004 Deputy Director, Alimentary Pharmabiotic Centre, UCC 2003 - Present Head, Department of Microbiology 2002-2004 Professor of Microbiology (Food Microbiology), UCC 1999 - Present Director, National Food Biotechnology Centre, UCC 1998 - 2004Associate Professor, Microbiology Department, UCC 1998 - 1999 Lecturer/Statutory Lecturer, Microbiology Department, UCC 1984 - 1998 Postdoctoral Fellow, University of Michigan Dental School, 1982-1984:

Ann Arbor, MI, U.S.A.

PhD Graduate Student, University College Cork 1978 - 1982

RESEARCH INTERESTS

- Probiotic cultures fundamental analysis and applications in foods
- Genomics of Bifldobacterium
- Molecular genetics of bacteriophage of Lactococcus
- Bacteriophage resistance in Lactococcus: fundamental analysis of resistance systems and their application in the construction of phage resistant cultures
- Biochemistry, physiology and genetics of Lactic Acid Bacteria
- Bacteriocins of Lactic Acid Bacteria as biopreservatives of foods

Total number of peer reviewed publications: Number of completed graduate student theses: 180+

37 PhD; 24 MSc

Awards: Awarded Royal Irish Academy National Commission for Microbiology Medal for excellence in research (1995).

Career research funding generated: 27.5m from Enterprise Ireland, Department of Agriculture, Food and Rural Development, BioResearch Ireland, EU Commission, Industry, Health Research Board, Higher Education Authority.

Membership of editorial boards/scientific committees:

Editor for Applied and Environmental Microbiology for eight years; Member of the Scientific Committee of the Food Safety Promotion Board Member of the Novel Foods Committee of the Food Safety Authority of Ireland External Examiner, Queen's University Belfast Co-ordinator of several Department of Agriculture, Food and Rural Development and

HEA research programmes; have previously co-ordinated large (50+ laboratories) EU projects